

PLATFORM FOR LABOUR ACTION JULY-SEPTEMBER NEWSLETTER 2021

WORD FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Greetings from PLA!

Dear Colleagues, stakeholders and friends of Platform for Labour Action, we are excited to share with you our quarter three journey. Leaping from the COVID-19 second lock down, it has been interesting to observe and experience the evolvments in the labour and employment sector of the country and generally across all spheres of life. As the country improved its COVID-19 vaccination rating within the East African region, the work place has remained adoptive. Remote working and service delivery is constantly evolving with technology taking center stage to link employees to employers and consumers alike. With a growth GDP of 6.2% for quarter, it was expected that businesses will bounce back to positively impact employment creation. While workers that previously lost employment slowly rejoined, they were met with numerous work place challenges. With the continued closure of schools and learning institutions, child abuse and exploitation was another center stage issue this period. From increased defilement, teenage pregnancies to children involved in child labour activities. Families continue to struggle to make ends meet thereby straining family relationships. We salute all the different women and men from all spectrums of the labour industry that continue to stand in the face of the economic hardships to build our nation.

PLA pledges to continue to be at the forefront in ensuring decent work for all vulnerable and marginalized workers.

Let me end with is quote “The man who moves a mountain begins by carrying away small stones.”
